MAY DAY 2012ETHIOPIAN WORKERS SUFFER BEYOND GRIEF

Ethiopian workers got the right to get organized and to observe May Day after paying sacrifice of big proportions—workers leaders like Abera Gemu, Markos Hagos and others—were killed by repressive regimes. We also remember a particular May Day during the previous totalitarian regime during which no less than 1,200 EPRP members and supporters were slaughtered all over Addis Abeba in a single day.

The plight of Ethiopian workers has not been as horrible as it is now under the ethnic based Meles regime. To begin with, the regime dissolved the trade union organization of the workers and set up its own satellite group after taking repressive actions against the leaders of the workers. It then proceeded to divide the workers along ethnic lines and decreed a repressive labor law that stands against the rights and interest of the workers at large. The right to strike of workers is curtailed practically and the workers have been left to the mercy of foreign companies that are engaged in land grab and plunder of Ethiopia's resources. Some who lost their land by force when engaged as farm workers are paid low salaries, according to the World Bank standards for such countries. At one point, the regime even made it legal for the Chinese employers to beat up any Ethiopian worker deemed "lazy" by the modern slave drivers from the East.

Galloping inflation, a failed economic policy, rampant corruption have all made the lot of workers worse than ever before. Workers are starving; workers are impoverished as a new rich clique (predominantly from one ethnic group) with no scruples and morality engages in a cruel exploitation of workers. The cost of living is so expensive that the three meals a day promised by the dictator has become a mirage for millions. Women workers do not enjoy equal pay rights and many are exported to modern day slavery. It is safe to say that the worst country for a worker to live in is present day Ethiopia. This is why the EPRP calls on the workers of Ethiopia to organize themselves and rise up to defend their rights and to launch the popular struggle and uprising that the country is in dire need of.

Victory to the struggle of the working people of Ethiopia!!

September 2, 2012

THE 5th GENERAL CONGRESS OF THE EPRP CONCLUDED

The 5th general congress of the EPRP was held from August 29 to September 1 and has been concluded with full success. Delegates from various sections of the party attended the congress, heard the full report of the Leadership Committee and passed resolutions to strengthen the party, to mobilize the people for the all out struggle and intensify the struggle against the tyrannical regime.

The significance of the 5th Congress has been appreciated due to the fact that it has taken place at a time when the people's struggle for democracy has been intensified and the party has defeated most of the conspiracies and plots hatched against it by the enemies of the Ethiopian people. The Congress noted that the regime of Meles Zenawi is on its death bed (with the dictator himself dead) and a transition to democracy possible if people reject the foreign inspired maneuver to assure the continuation of the regime or to make cosmetic changes to continue with a similar puppet regime. The Congress has also made a full analysis of the local and international situation and set its tasks and priorities based on its conclusion of what ought to be done to end with the divisive and dictatorial regime and bring about real and democratic change in Ethiopia. As opposed to the affirmation made by the apologists of the regime the Congress has firmly concluded that the regime has brought political and economic disaster to Ethiopia and all talk of economic progress is but a lie and a sham.

The 5th Congress has critically reexamined its own experience vis-a-vis the united front and assessed the ongoing front formation taken by various groups. It has reaffirmed the EPRP's call for an actual and active united action within Ethiopia itself by all viable forces committed to democracy and Ethiopian unity. The Congress has also commended the various civic organizations involved in human rights and the plight of women. The EPRP political program and
